The Delaware KIDS Fund Created To Assist Kids In Distressed Situations

NEW CASTLE, DE (November 19, 2008) - - Thomas J. Hanna and Harvey, Hanna & Associates, today announced the creation of The Delaware KIDS Fund, a 501C-3 non-profit organization, dedicated to providing goods and services to Delaware's children who are "at-risk" or are currently facing distressed circumstances.

The acronym, "KIDS," is a term used by charitable organizations for Kids In Distressed Situations. The Delaware KIDS Fund will focus on a variety of support services for young Delawareans including, but not limited to, the following:

- Financial support for essential needs, such as clothing, shelter and food;
- Financial support for counseling and/or mentoring abused, grief stricken or disease-afflicted children;
- Scholarships, fellowships, and educational grants for students in grades K-12, including support for special needs and learning-disabled students;

"Children are 20 percent of our population and 100 percent of our future," said Thomas J. Hanna, Executive Director of The Delaware KIDS Fund. "In these tough economic times our support is more critical than ever. It is essential that we support Delaware's youth now, for a better tomorrow."

Tax-deductible gifts may be directed to The Delaware KIDS Fund, 29 E. Commons Boulevard, Suite 100, New Castle, DE, 19720. For more information contact Thomas J. Hanna at (302) 323-9300 ext. 12 or thanna@harveyhanna.com.
